

Dear Pathways community,

As we step into April, we hope this month brings new and meaningful opportunities for you and your research.

For those of you in Europe, we are happy to announce that our 2024 Autumn School is now accepting applications. Read on for more details below!

Stephanie
& the Pathways Initiative Steering Group

We always welcome relevant contributions to share (events, opportunities and publications) for our next Pathways newsletter and Pathways social media. Please send content for consideration to stephanie.otoole@futureearth.org

Pathways News

Apply now to the Pathways Autumn School 2025: Towards Sustainable and Just Futures: Concepts, Challenges, and Practices ⛰️

Our Autumn School creates an interdisciplinary learning space for early-career researchers from the natural, social, and humanities disciplines in sustainability science. Taking place in Aussois, in the French Alps, the 2025 Autumn School will focus on the concepts, practices and challenges of a more transformative research agenda within sustainability science.

Doctoral researchers and researchers who finished their PhD within the last 10 years (excluding periods of parental leave) who are living and working in Europe are invited to apply.

The call for applications is open until 12 May 2025 at midnight CEST.

More information here!

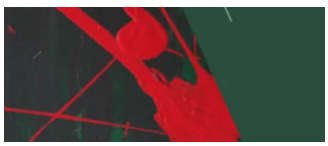

Food for Thought

"Doing Justice, Doing Just This: Practicing justice in transdisciplinary and transformative research"

"...Transformations research pushes us to acknowledge and address systemic/ root causes of injustices (race, class, gender, ability) that are driving the multiple crises (climate, biodiversity, social etc.). This requires us to re-think how we conduct our research, What questions we ask, who we include or exclude, how we understand participation, and what we do with the findings, insights and products of our research."

Read the collection by the Doing Justice Collective here.

Events

Webinar: The Role of Arts-Based Approaches in Transformative Inter- and Transdisciplinary Research

This webinar aims to map existing arts-based methods used and systematically described in inter- and transdisciplinary (ITD) research by analyzing key methodological repositories.
Learn more here.

Happening: 10 April 2025, online

Just GLOBE Project

Just GLOBE Project Conference: Multispecies engagements and the more-than-human lens in environmental politics and governance

The Justice and Politics in Global Bioeconomy (Just GLOBE) project researches environmental justice, politics, policy discourses, power relations and cultural and political hegemony in the emerging global bioeconomy. It does so from political ecology, decolonial, degrowth and feminist perspectives.
Learn more here.

Happening: 6 and 7 May 2025, University of Helsinki and online

WELLBEING ECONOMY FORUM

The Wellbeing Economy Forum
This forum will dive deep into what it means to build economies rooted in wellbeing, equity, sustainability, and shared prosperity—with discussions on everything from housing and health to civic participation and climate action.
Learn more here.

Happening: 8 and 9 May 2025, Reykjavík, Iceland

Spotlight

Alter Nativas - Construyendo futuros posibles

“Alternativas”, del latín Alter (otro) y Nativus (nacido), hace referencia a la búsqueda de nuevas realidades, nuevos orígenes. Ese es el punto de partida de este proyecto documental, el mostrar iniciativas innovadoras de transición socioecológica. Experiencias diversas que están planteando respuestas a la crisis sistémica que sufrimos en el mundo: energética, económica, ecológica, social, cultural y epistémica.

Alter nativas: "Building possible futures” is a collaborative documentary film that wants to show innovative initiatives of ecosocial just transition and regeneration.

Watch the documentary free online

Publications

What is a ‘Good’ Transformation and Who Gets to Define It? Insights from Critical Social Science to Strengthen Reflexivity and Refine Transdisciplinary Research Tools
(2025, td-net). Read here.

Geohumanities: Elements, animacy, and memory
(2025, Progress in Environmental Geography). Read here.

Collective action among the extremes? Relations between political ideology, political extremism, emotions, and collective action
(2025, Political Psychology). Read here.

Creating favourable conditions for inter- and transdisciplinary integration - An analytical framework and empirical insights.
(2025, Global Environmental Change). Read here.

Value change debt as a window of opportunity for transformative change: a case study on the mixed Indigenous food system of St. Paul Island, Alaska
(2025, Sustainability Science). Read here.

Opportunities

Reimagining Planetary Regeneration:
An Intergenerational Community Exchange for South and Southeast Asia

This five month programme brings together conservationists, activists, artists, researchers, and practitioners working in South and Southeast Asia who share a commitment to fostering earth-centric, community-driven solutions to the environmental and social challenges of our time.
Learn more here.

Deadline to apply: 10 April 2025

PhD studentship: The Global Development Institute and Indigenous Movement for Peace Advancement and Conflict Transformation

At the University of Manchester, PhD projects available include:
Opportunities and Challenges for Indigenous-led Carbon Initiatives; Community Land as a Pathway to Climate and Biodiversity Co-Benefits; Community Knowledge, Zoonotic Disease and Environmental change.
Learn more here.

Deadline to apply: 17 April 2025

Call for contributions: Cuerpo territorio - A methodological workshop to reflect upon and explore embodied feelings on extractivism

Cuerpo territorio is a method that emerged from Latin American communitarian feminism and that is increasingly being used by critical scholars across the globe. In this one-day workshop we want to bring together scholars that are applying this method to their research.
Learn more here.

Deadline to apply: 19 April 2025

Call for applications: International Masters in Economics

Economic POlicies for the Global bifurcation (EPOG-JM) is an Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree in economics, supported by the European Union. It offers an integrated Master's programme on the (digital, socioeconomic, ecological) transition processes with a pluralist approach and interdisciplinary perspectives.
Learn more here.

Deadline to apply: 22 April 2025

Postdoc: Socio-ecological resilience at the Finnish Environment Institute

The postdoctoral researcher studies socio-ecological system changes and transformation resilience in Finland and internationally. The key task is to develop qualitative and/or quantitative research aimed at integrating ecological and social resilience.
Learn more here.

Deadline to apply: 22 April 2025

Future Earth France Hub, 4 Place Jussieu, Paris, France
Unsubscribe Manage preferences

Copyright © 2023 Future Earth, All rights reserved.